

In collaboration with FMN's International Community

Inconvenient Conversations

19 October 2018 | 10:00 – 16:00

Location: Creative Valley - Orteliuslaan 9 Utrecht, The Netherlands

WE is organizing conversations about societal, political and technological developments that impact our profession. Developments that leave us with mixed feelings and uncertainty but also ignite our curiosity about our roles and how it all will play out.

In this edition:

Marie Puybaraud
Global Head of Research - JLL

Sex at Work: Why do we only have a 3% share of female CEO's in the top 500 companies?

Geoffrey van Meer
Head of Data Intelligence - RTL

Dark side of Tech: How data is captured and how it can be used nowadays to not only understand people but also influence their decisions.

Tarmo Koppel
Lecturer at Talinn University of Technology

Sick at Work: Assessment of health effects of electromagnetic fields at the workplace.

20% early-bird discount until 01/10:
Ticket: €80 (€100) including lunch and drinks

GET YOUR TICKETS HERE

Note: maximum 75 seats. first come, first serve.

Hotel discount available
click here to book a room (breakfast included) at a reduced rate